

BEHIND BORDEN POLICY TO A MAN

Sir Richard McBride Tells of British Columbia's Stand.

London, Aug. 28.—Sir Richard McBride is having a busy time in England, one of the principal questions before him being the erection of the province's new offices on the splendid site on Regent street.

In interviews with a number of journals, Sir Richard has stated that his province, to a man, is beside Mr. R. L. Borden in his proposal to give three Dreadnoughts to the Imperial navy. He emphasized the fact that the more Canadians think over this question the stronger becomes their realization of an obligation to undertake their share in the Empire's naval responsibilities.

One Man Pays for Lunch and Court Will Digest It.

After hearing the conclusion of the argument in the injunction application of Gold vs. South Vancouver, Mr. Justice Morrison reserved judgment this morning. Mr. E. Gold is seeking an injunction to prevent the municipality from letting a paving contract to the Dominion Creosote Company. The argument lasted about two hours and a number of affidavits were filed which his lordship said he would read and digest as soon as possible, but he did not fix a time for delivering judgment.

Counsel called attention to the fact that in one of the affidavits it was deposed that a South Vancouver councillor and a contractor had lunched together at a Vancouver restaurant, but that it was not stated who had paid for the lunch. His lordship remarked that he would digest that along with the other affidavits.

"Certainly," said Mr. Shoebottom, the prosecutor, "he has that right." He explained that the badge which was found in his room had been given him by a man at Extension, whom he had told that he would hand it over to the authorities.

Those who were not deeply buried in the ruins were quickly taken out and given first aid attention by the doctors and nurses. Relatives and friends of those known to have been in the building soon hastened to the spot, many weeping hysterically until they became assured of the safety of their loved ones.

HINDUS FIND WAY TO ENTER CANADA

Discover Continuous Route from India on Japanese Line.

Victoria, Aug. 28.—After a careful and thoroughly careful study of the regulations dealing with Hindu immigration to Canada and an exhaustive enquiry into the routes of different steamship companies which come to this country from the Indian Empire, the British subjects of that eastern domain have succeeded in paving a way for their entry into Canada. It is expected that the Hindus will arrive here in the future in as large numbers as the Chinese and Japanese.

When the Nippon liner Sanuki Maru was berthed at the outer docks last evening the immigration officials here found that they were confronted with the Hindu problem again.

Three natives of the Asiatic country applied for admission to this country and today they are being examined by the officials and in all probability will be permitted to remain. The small party which arrived yesterday is the second to come in the last month and now that the Hindus find that provided they can pass the health examination and comply with the other requirements of the regulations, they can enter Canada, they will be flocking here in large numbers.

The Dominion regulations state that the Hindu must come here by direct voyage from the land of his birth. This question of coming direct has been bothering the Hindu for some time.

The Nippon Yusen Kaisha has a service from Bombay and Calcutta to Yokohama and Hongkong and as they connect with the transpacific boats of the line the Hindu decided to try this route and see what the outcome would be. The Sado Maru, which arrived several weeks ago, brought in five new Hindus and they were admitted to Canada. It is understood that this party and the one which arrived yesterday on the Sanuki were used to test the new plan.

able to Attend Civic Investi- gation Today.

Counsel's absence caused Ald. Malcolm McBeath to have the enquiry, which he has inaugurated into Waterworks Superintendent Maddison's conduct of the city department, adjourned for a day, when Mayor Baxter and the committee convened at the City Hall this afternoon.

Mr. A. H. McNeill, K. C., a partner of Mr. J. E. Bird, Ald. McBeath's solicitor, who was said to be busy on another case in the courthouse, appeared and requested the adjournment. Mr. McNeill criticized the personnel of the committee on the ground that several of the members of it would be wanted to give evidence. The committee, however, overruled his objections. The investigation will go on tomorrow afternoon.

WOULD MAKE GOOD SLAVE

Ex-Sultan Regrets He Did Not Have Jack Johnson Years Ago.

Paris, Aug. 28.—Paris, the traditional resort of kings in exile, now harbors the Ex-Sultan of Morocco, Abdul Aziz.

His majesty, in flowing robes of white, is to be seen daily in a large automobile driving along the boulevards. To distract him from his gloomy thoughts he was taken to a well known vaudeville establishment to see the "Revue." The potentate gazed with indifference at the long array of gorgeously arrayed dancers; only when Jack Johnson appeared to give an exhibition of boxing, and to dance with his wife, did a gleam of interest dawn in the royal eyes. "What a splendid slave he would have made for me a few years ago," said his majesty with a deep sigh.

THREE QUEER CAT TALK

A Mother Cat Adopts Seven To a Stray Baby Squirrel

New York, Aug. 28.—Mother, a cat with exceptional domestic traits, has added a stray baby squirrel to her seven-toed cat litter of kittens in their snug nest in the stables of Eastside Park, Pater-son, N. J., and apparently she is as proud of the stranger as she is of her own.

When Mother disappeared from the park benches recently the children with whom she had played for a long time traced her and found that she had five handsome kittens in the stable. She was very proud of her brood and exhibited them willingly.

A keeper found a baby squirrel, so young that its eyes were yet unopened, on the lawn a few mornings ago, and as there was no mother squirrel to claim him, he carried the animal to the stable. Mother was absent on a foraging expedition at the time, and the keeper placed the squirrel in the nest with the kittens.

Of course, Mother was much surprised when she saw the little stranger, but she was not displeased. She adopted him immediately, and since then she has shown no preference between her own and the squirrel.
