

personal sort of way. He loves their games, takes an intense interest in their doings, knows their weaknesses and their strength far better than most people imagine.

No notice should be taken of the attempts which have been made to drag the King's name into politics. He has had to suffer a good deal from misrepresentation. He is truly democratic and his sympathies are far more liable to err on the side of the weak than in supporting the strong. Politics have increased the difficulty of his position. Some of the Ketter heads have not scrupled to try and involve him in the political maelstrom which is engulfing old and disorganizing new parties and policies. But the King has steered a straight course through all these dangers. He was trained in the navy and it will take something more than a political catastrophe to distract his attention from his real work.

The whole British Empire will join in respectfully wishing His Majesty very many happy returns of the day.

THE EXPERIMENT FAILS.

According to present indications the Japanese steamship Komagata Maru will leave Vancouver for the Orient with her excursionists on board without them having had the opportunity of examining the country. They appear to have at last realized they could not land unless Canada chose to make a special dispensation in their favor and that it is an expensive business to keep a ship waiting in port while the courts decide whether its passengers are entitled to land here or not. The experiment was almost bound to be a failure from the very first. Mr. Gurdit Singh may have been imbued with the best of intentions, but he was most ill-advised to bring such a large party here. As we have said before it could make no difference whether the test was made with one or a thousand. It was the principle which was involved and the principle is based on sound common sense from every point of view. We are sure that if Mr. Gurdit Singh and his following consider the problem calmly they will come to the same conclusion. While at first Canada may seem to offer a wide field to the labor of the East Indians, free access to the country would simply entail very sharp competition among the immigrants themselves. The Chinese and Japanese were admitted only because a precedent had been established. What Mr. Gurdit Singh and his friends do not realize is that Canada has found the precedent led to an injurious habit and is endeavoring gradually to cure the habit without a violent operation. Meanwhile she has learnt from experience and does not intend to add to her troubles by implying another such problem on the ones already existing.

There is absolutely no desire on the part of Canada to discriminate against the Hindus. We recognize the chauffeur who secretly married the waitress of Ingersoll, the wealthy watch manufacturer, gave another dress demonstration of the dollar movement.

From their limited observation of the Pacific Coast the Hindu passengers on the Komagata Maru have reason to believe that it is a rockbound and impassable region.

A society to care for cats abandoned by their owners who are away on vacations has been organized in Chicago. The canaries and geraniums will have to take their own chances.

A literary authority advocates pronouncing foreign words incorporated in our language as though they were English words. How would it do to start with chauffeur and depot?

This is the incubator period for the graduating essay, which, when the hatching process is completed, will be released to a waiting world by an army of youthful and ambitious high-brows.

The United States department of agriculture is endeavoring to take a census of the denizens of the heavens above and the waters beneath. The object is to make an approximate estimate of the number of birds and souls. Thousands of swift-winged flyers and playful seals will be as successful in evading the enumerators as the foxiest income tax dodger.

The economic development of China is not unlikely to lessen the pressure of oriental immigration on Australia, British Columbia and the Pacific Coast of the United States, says the Spokesman-Review. Great advances in Chinese industries are on the way. These industrial developments are keeping the Chinese at home in the southern states of the republic and attracting Japanese attention to the northern states. Indo-China, Korea and Manchuria may become safety-valves for the overflow of the surplus populations of Japan and China.

All the world loves a lover, and when royalty steps out of its class to wed there is a touch of genuine humanity which is lacking in the coldly calculated nuptials of princely blood. The marriage of Prince Oscar, the German Kaiser's fifth son, to a mere countess, who is his mother's maid of honor, will be the first morganatic union in the Hohenzollern family since 1853, when a great uncle of the present Emperor was the bridegroom. If Emperor William, as is reported, has sanctioned the love match of his son, he gives another proof of his common sense.

Here's a New Version.

Boss—But I let you off yesterday afternoon.
Boy—I know, but de game was called on account of rain, Judge.

REDISTRIBUTION BILL

Will Be Presented to Parliament at Once and Go Through by Consent.

Ottawa, June 3.—The last difficulties in regard to the redistribution bill, which have been holding up the measure for the past week, and which have been the subject of frequent negotiations between the members of the committee, were settled late last night, and the scheduled vote on all the provinces were signed by both sides. The bill will be submitted to Parliament at once and will go through by consent. In view of the attitude of the Liberals in the Lower House, the Senate will pass the measure without protest.

The last questions which were in dispute were as to the disposal of Russell County in Eastern Ontario, the seat of Hon. Charles Murphy, and Richmond County in Nova Scotia. Russell, by the redistribution agreed upon, will disappear. Richmond is represented by Mr. G. W. Kyte. Richmond, it is understood, will be joined to both Cape Breton, and will have two members elected at large.

Two Americans Killed in Tampico.
Washington, June 3.—The killing of Weston Hurwell of this city and a companion, supposed to have also been an American, by Mexicans in the Tampico district, about two weeks ago, was confirmed today. Reports that Hurwell was executed as a spy are being investigated by the Governor of Tamaulipas.
